Interview with Páternoszter Piroska, social specialist

Social workers attend with residents in the way of the new model in this home in Győr They put stressed attention to the fresh brain near the train of the body.

„ Social and mental hygienics groups work in our home, they are responsible for the activities and mental improvement of the home residents.”- said Váradyné Horváth Ibolya, head of care staff.

The experts in Győr prepared five models in their application approved by the EU. The apartment complex for aged people, the home emergency signal system were performed, but model of the short-term care home and two long-term residencies with their infrastucture were showed, too.

„ We have to work out such conditions of residence, that make the more comfortable, long life in their own surroundings possible in different social environments, as England, Lithuania are also members of the project.”- said Páternoszter Piroska.

According to the public-opinion polls aged people are extremely attached to their habitual conditions, so one of their basic desire is to live in their own homes as long as possible. But it is true that nowadays they are also glad to get accomodation in a home.

„ When I moved in, it was hard to get used here, at first I cooked myself. But now I get accustomed, it is very good”- said the oldest home resident.

According to the social specialist of the EU the submitted application of Győr can be interpreted a kind of rule book, that will be built in the workout of the old people care programmes in the European countries.
